QAUJIGIARTIIT

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Executive Director

Qaujigiartiit Health Research Centre, an Inuit-led non-profit based in Iqaluit, is seeking a visionary Executive Director & CEO to lead the organization into its next chapter. Founded on Inuit Qaujimajatuqangit and committed to community wellness and self-determination, Qaujigiartiit is a leading research, education, and innovation centre that is also contributing to community-built infrastructure grounded in Inuit knowledge and values.

As Executive Director, you will oversee operations, finances, human resources, infrastructure, and fundraising, and serve as CEO of our affiliated development corporation. Working closely with the Board and Scientific Director, you will ensure that strategic and community priorities guide all aspects of our work.

Ideal candidates bring strong leadership and management experience in a non-profit or health-related setting, deep respect for Inuit culture, and a commitment to community-led initiatives.

Location: Iqaluit, Nunavut

Salary: $120,000–$160,000 plus housing and northern allowances (total compensation up to $182,500). Additional benefits include a comprehensive health, dental, and wellness supports package, flex-time options, paid professional development, a supportive and family-friendly workplace, and others.

Closing Date: open until filled.
