

Senior Associate, Community Initiatives
Located in Iqaluit, NU
Salary of $90,000-$100,000 + Benefits

The Opportunity

Tides Canada and the Canadian Women's Foundation are looking for a Senior Associate to support innovative social, cultural, and economic initiatives for women and girls. The Senior Associate is responsible for strategic grant-making that will catalyze and sustain community-driven solutions, support innovative and holistic programming and amplify positive impact in the three territories and four Inuit regions.

The Candidate

We are looking for a committed, collaborative and solution-orientated Senior Associate to support innovative social, cultural, and economic initiatives for women and girls through collaborative grantmaking efforts. The ideal candidate has experience building relationships with northern communities, understanding of issues which impact women and girls and interest in exploring innovative models and approaches.

Fluency in Inuktitut or another northern Indigenous language is considered an asset.

To view the full job posting please visit our website:
<https://tidescanada.org/about-us/join-our-team/>.

For more information about the position please contact steve.ellis@tidescanada.org.

To apply please send your resume and a cover letter outlining what makes you an ideal candidate for this role to careers@tidescanada.org by December 20, 2019.

Thank you.