

ANNOUNCEMENT BY D.J. SPECIALTIES

After fourteen years of valuable service provided to the Iqaluit community, and after leading D.J. Specialties operations for over 12 years, Mona Godin and Tim Bayne now plan to retire, this coming summer.

Mona and Tim must be recognized not only for the substantial business development achieved on behalf of D. J. Specialties, during their tenure, but also for the implementation of a variety of measures now implemented within the retail operations. Mona and Tim shared their responsibilities, in the most part, between assigned store and warehousing related activities, respectively, and Mona also directed activities related to other associated companies, over the years.

Mona and Tim will also be missed from their engagements in customer services, and in a variety of community-related events and fund-raising applications on behalf of a number of organizations (e.g. Habitat for Humanity, Baffin Regional Chamber of Commerce, Iqaluit Chamber of Commerce, other Iqaluit committees).

Please join me in Wishing a Happy Retirement to Mona and to Tim, in their new home planned in Waltham, Quebec.

In closing, we thank the Iqaluit community for all support provided to D.J. Specialties, throughout the past twenty-four years, and we pledge continued customer service and competitive retail pricing, for the coming years.

Stuart Kennedy, President, D.J. Specialties Ltd.

D.J. Specialties announces the appointment of Ryan Bayne to the position of General Manager, D.J. Specialties. Ryan steps into this position after education received at Dalhousie University, and years of training under the guidance of his parents, Mona and Tim. We are confident that Ryan will be well supported by the Staff whom he has previously worked with, and we know that he is comfortable serving the Iqaluit community, which he has matured and developed in. We ask that you welcome Ryan in his new position.

D.J. Specialties announces the appointment of Josh Somers to the position of Warehouse and Cargo Manager, D.J. Specialties. Josh has experienced seven years of customer service, and a variety of work positions with D.J. Specialties. We are confident in Josh's ability, experience, and the Staff support to continue operations, as previously provided, and we ask that you welcome Josh in his new position.
